FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LEGENDARY COACH FRANK ALLOCCO TO RUN COACHING SESSIONS AT TWU LANGLEY, British Columbia –

Trinity Western University men's basketball program and head coach Scott Allen are pleased to announce that coaching legend Frank Allocco will be at Trinity Western University this Friday, September 12 and Saturday, September 13 to run a coaching clinic for local high-school and elementary school coaches.

"Coach Allocco is a highly motivated and gifted teacher of basketball. He has the ability to take a moderately athletic team and turn them into a national contender year after year," commented TWU men's basketball head coach Scott Allen. "His style of coaching is different in a sense he doesn't follow trends but teaches, teaches and re-teaches how to read your defender - we are very excited about an opportunity to learn from one of the best clinicians in the world."

In 11 years as head coach at nationally-prominent De La Salle High School in Concord, Calif. Allocco has captured two state championships and 11 league titles, losing a total of only three games in league play. Under his tenure, De La Salle has become one of the elite high school programs in the United States. Before arriving at De La Salle in 1997, Allocco won his first state championship at Northgate High School in Concord, and he is the only coach in California history to win a state championship at two different schools. In 17 years he has accumulated an 88% (470-66) overall career winning percentage, which is the third best all-time trailing only Oak Hill Academy's Stephen A. Smith at 94% (684-40) and Montrose Christian (MD) HS Stu Vetter at 89% (746-92).

The clinic will be held at Trinity Western University's main campus at 7600 Glover Road in Langley, B.C.

High-school and elementary school coaches who wish to attend should contact TWU head coach Scott Allen at Scott.Allen@twu.ca or call 604.513.2124.
